Hi! My name is Cecil, and I’m a dinosaur. There are many kinds of dinosaurs. I’m a Coelophysis! That’s quite a long name. You say it like this: SEE-loh-FY-sis.
Did you know that the Earth is four-and-a-half BILLION years old? That is a loooong time!

Scientists divide this history into smaller chunks of time called eras and periods.
Over that time, life has changed a lot!

Let’s take a trip through our planet’s history—starting four billion years ago—and discover all of the amazing life that has called Earth home.

Let’s begin our Journey Through Time!
